

A Message from NATCA President Nick Daniels: The Path Forward

NATCA Family,

Today marks the beginning of a new chapter for our Union. I am honored to serve each of you and serve with the duly elected National Executive Board for the next three years.

While visiting facilities, I received the clear message that our members prefer frequent communication from the Union, but also communications that are direct and to the point.

We will deploy different strategies to bolster our communication and review what resonates with the membership.

Keeping that in mind, it's impossible to address all matters in one message, however you can be assured that we are focused on the issues you voiced. We will provide tangible and credible responses, and all our communication will be based in reality and founded in unionism and solidarity.

As we look ahead, we face the undeniable reality of a crucial U.S. Presidential election and many significant challenges, no matter the outcome. One thing remains constant – our strength lies in our unity and with an empowered and engaged membership. Together we will be prepared to confront these challenges head-on, and our goal will be to speak with one clear and powerful voice.

To ensure we're prepared, we will hold a call with the National Executive Board today to schedule and convene a special session to harness our collective energy and focus our efforts strategically. Our commitment will be to lead with integrity and transparency and to unite the NATCA membership.

Over the next three years, you will not only hear from me. You will receive information from the topical experts and leaders on issues that affect matters that are dear to all of us. Your voice and engagement in our Union will help foster the unity needed more than ever. Let's embark on this journey together, driven by the trust you've placed in us and the shared commitment to make NATCA stronger than ever.

In Solidarity,

Nick Daniels
NATCA President

The graphic is a promotional banner for the 2025 NATCA calendar. It features a background collage of various calendar pages in different colors (yellow, blue, pink, green, orange). In the top left corner, there is the NATCA logo, which consists of a stylized ship's wheel with the letters 'NATCA' in red.
