Initiative

NTI Impediment & Action Plan user interface (UI) changes and instructions:

1. Impediment submissions, either by way of long-term statuses or individual selection on the employee's status page no longer adjust the expectation hours. This means that the employee's status indicator on the facility page are static and are based only on baseline (12/15 hr) expectations.

2. There is a new icon in the gallery of employees on the facility page. It exists for any employee who did not meet the baseline expectation of 12/15 hrs (employees with a gray x) and first appears as a red "people" icon with a border.

This icon indicates that the employee's impediments have not yet been coordinated/collaborated with a union rep. To indicate that impediments have been coordinated/collaborated, you can navigate to that individual's page by selecting their record in the gallery, where there appears a toggle:

This will be enabled during the normal reporting window from Monday-Wednesday of any given week. The text associated with the toggle will display as either "NOT Coordinated With Union" (default) or "Coordinated With Union" (when toggled). After selecting that union coordination was completed, the aforementioned "people" icon will change to a blue color and drop the border.

Selecting the "require response" checkbox on the facility page will now filter to include both employees who still need impediments entered and those with indicators that union collaboration is incomplete. The union collaboration piece will not prevent a facility from certifying entries or entering action plans; however, once this is done (or Thursday automations run locking impediment entries), the option to toggle this input is disabled and cannot be changed.
